

LAUSD Learning Collaborative
Dedicated to Wellness Center Excellence

As part of its strategic plan to improve the preventive and health care services delivered to LAUSD students and the community, the Los Angeles Trust for Children’s Health (L.A. Trust) is the convener and strategic coordinator for the Wellness Network Learning Collaborative. The L.A. Trust provides support to the Networks through the development of strategic programs and partnerships and targeted fundraising. Members of the Learning Collaborative meet on a quarterly basis to share resources, learn from each other, and measure the collective impact of the wellness centers on student achievement and health outcomes.

Learning Collaborative Goals:

- Develop and sustain a school/neighborhood Wellness Learning Collaborative that will improve school and community wellness outcomes, including the impact on student achievement.
- Develop cost effective strategies that promote and ensure continuous and comprehensive access to medical, mental health, and oral health services on wellness center campuses.
