Three Models
Encourage accessibility to quality health care to recognized at-risk or vulnerable neighborhoods

Offer all of the services you would expect from a “health home”

FQHC certification allows for reimbursement, low-cost medications, MalPractice and funding to improve health promotion efforts
Our school-based clinics encourage access for families who may not otherwise seek these services, breaking barriers that prevent families from accessing preventative and maintenance-based care.

These school-based clinics provide a “usual source of care” that helps to prevent school absences and difficulty in health care access.
The Children’s Clinic at International Elementary School
Our first school-based site built in 1999
Currently operating as a part-time clinic (20 hours a week)
In 2009, we saw 506 patients with 1,021 visits
76% live below 100% poverty rate and 50% need language assistance
The Children’s Clinic at International Elementary School

- Shared Space Model
- Successes
  - Relationship building
  - Seamless delivery of care for children served by both institutions
- Challenges
  - HIPPA and liabilities
  - Hours of operations
  - Service scope limited to Pediatrics
